SAMPLE LIST OF ACTIVITIES ORGANIZED BY IQAC

Activity Proposed by IQAC: Industrial Visit

Preamble: Industrial visits are a crucial component of the academic curriculum in most management programs. These visits, often termed industry visits, play a vital role in experiential learning by providing students with valuable exposure to real-world business environments. By offering a practical understanding of theoretical concepts, such visits enable students to connect classroom learning with industry practices directly related to their field of study.

The primary aim of industrial visits is to bridge the gap between academic theories and their practical application by offering students hands-on exposure to business operations, processes, and workflows. These visits allow students to observe how different business functions are executed and understand the inputs and outputs that drive workplace activities.

By extending learning beyond the classroom, industrial visits significantly enhance students' overall development. They provide insights into current market trends, emerging technologies, and future industry scenarios, helping students stay informed and better prepared for their professional careers.

Industrial Visit-NSE

Date: 5th August 2023

Location: NSE and Apple Store, Mumbai

Summary of the Visit:

The visit aimed to provide practical exposure to approximately 264 MBA students. At the NSE, students experienced a two-hour session that provided their first exposure to India's financial markets. They learned about the equity market, including how shares are bought and sold, and factors influencing stock prices. The session introduced derivatives like futures and options, emphasizing their roles in risk management and investment strategies. It also covered the operations of stock exchanges, detailing trading processes and regulatory frameworks that ensure market integrity. Key takeaways included the importance of understanding market trends, analyzing financial data, and making informed investment decisions.

The visit to India's first Apple Store at Bandra Kurla Complex (BKC) offered insights into the operational excellence and customer-centric approach of a leading technology company. Students observed the store's unique ambiance, high-level customer service, and a wide range of Apple products, showcasing the brand's innovation. They analyzed merchandising strategies, paid heed to how the product placement and visual merchandising enhanced the customer engagement, and appreciated the efficient customer support system.

Overall, the visits provided valuable practical insights into financial markets and retail operations, complementing the students' academic learning.

Industrial Visit - Baramati

Date: 16th August 2022

Location: Cotton King, Baramati

Summary of the Visit:

The visit to Cotton King provided immense learning opportunities. The students were divided into groups of 40 and given a comprehensive tour of the factory, each group accompanied by two guides. They gained insights into the factory's layout and daily operations. The tour delved deeply into various divisions, particularly the cotton processing unit, where even minute defects are identified. They also learned about the assignment of different parts of a shirt or trousers to tailors, each with a set daily target. Coordination among tailors is crucial to maintain the synchronization of the entire process. Automation is integrated until the final tailor stitches the brand logo onto the men's wear. The garment then goes to the detector team, whose job is to scrutinize the product and give the green signal for it to proceed to the washing team. The students were impressed by the seamless and coordinated manufacturing process at Cotton King.

Industrial Visit - Baramati

Date: 17th August 2022

Location: Nandan Dairy, Baramati

Summary of the Visit:

Nandan Dairy offered students valuable insights into processed milk and related products. Divided into groups, the students observed the pasteurization process and learned how raw milk is sourced. They also explored the manufacturing processes of milk products like curd and ghee, culminating in an exposure to the final packaging stages. The revelation that Nandan Dairy undertakes job work for major brands like Amul and Mother Dairy was a novel concept for the students. Overall, the visit provided terrific learning experiences and added immense value to their understanding of the dairy industry.

Industrial Visit - Nashik

Date: 2nd Dec 2019

Summary of the Visit: VIP, Neelay Industries, Neelay Metals, Sahyadri Farms, Sula Vineyards

Summary of the Session:

The newly inducted students of the 2024-26 batch of the Asma Institute of Management had gone for a three-day industrial visit to Nashik from 25th July to 27th July 2024.

On the first day, the students visited the manufacturing plant of VIP Industries, Nashik. They were taken through and oriented about the operations of various departments, starting with the purchase department, where they were briefed about the specifications of the polypropylene raw material used for manufacturing the hard luggage. The students went through the injection molding department, mold manufacturing department, PC vacuum formation department, and assembly department.

Two batches of students visited the units of Neelay Industries and Neelay Metals, which manufactures control panels, assembly, and machine components of the major OEMs like Schneider Electric, ABB, Siemens, Crompton & Greaves, CG Lucy, Lucy Switchgear Ltd., etc.

On the second day, the students visited Sahyadri Farms in Nashik. Sahyadri Farms is India's largest integrated fruits and vegetables value chain. Founded by a smallholder farmer, Mr. Vilas Shinde, Sahyadri Farms transformed into a movement of farmers that has grown today into the leading fruits & vegetable export company from India, serving over 22,000 registered farmers that cover 45,000 acres and more than 10 crops.

Sahyadri Farms has a state-of-the-art food processing facility, supplying processed food products to the majority of the FMCG companies in India.

The students also visited Sula Vineyards in Nashik. The beverage company that brought Nashik on the global platform has been the pioneer in the beverage industry, popularizing grape wine in the Indian market. The students were briefed about the grape juice extraction, fermentation process, cold storage unit, and the retail store.

On the third day of the visit, the students visited Dhruv Global School, Sangamner, where they got an opportunity to listen to Dr. Sanjay Malpani, a renowned industrialist. Dr. Malpani enlightened the students with the wisdom from the Indian culture, how it is important to stick to your roots, and some life lessons on how to conduct a calm, composed and balanced life. He shared some yoga postures and breathing techniques for mental well-being so as to align them with physical activities and improve the overall performance of the tasks at hand. The more common incidences of mental issues like anxiety, depression, and stress frequently occurring amongst today's youth is the topic of grave concern, and Dr. Malpani shared some important tips to handle these mental states and the way to lead a stress-free life. Dr. Malpani has made an immaculate contribution to the field of Yoga and has made immense efforts to expedite the proposal of recognizing Yoga as a sport, and succeeded in this mission as The Ayush Ministry and Sports Ministry finally approved the recognition of Yoga as a sport. He is spreading awareness about this life-transforming art of Yoga through Dhruv Global Schools. The two students of Dhruv Global School performed some amazing Yoga postures in front of the MBA students of AIBM, leaving them completely astonished to see the performance and in awe of the magnitude of this art.

After a visit to the Dhruv Global School and a session by Dr. Sanjay Malpani, the students then visited India's first devotional theme park, Sai Teerth in Shirdi, and then started back to Pune.

The industrial visit was a valuable experience for the students of Asma Institute of Management, offering practical exposure to various industries and processes. The insights gained from the visits to VIP Industries, Neelay Industries, Sahyadri Farms, Sula Vineyards, Dhruv Global School, and Sai Teerth will undoubtedly enhance their academic and professional pursuits.

Case Study Workshop

Preamble: A fundamental component of management education is to develop students' analytical thinking and problem-solving skills. The objective of an MBA program extends beyond theoretical learning; it aims to prepare students to take on leadership roles in organizations, driving profitability and positive change as effective change agents. Therefore, it is essential for MBA students to gain practical experience in real-world scenarios, often achieved through the use of case studies.

Case Study Workshop for Students and Faculty Members:

In line with this, ASMA organized a Case Study Workshop to enhance problem-solving skills and deepen students' understanding of case study analysis. A seasoned expert led the workshop, offering valuable insights into approaching and resolving business cases. The session provided participants with an opportunity to engage with real-world business challenges, honing their critical thinking, decision-making skills, and ability to craft innovative solutions.

Following the theoretical input, students were divided into groups, each assigned a specific case study to analyse and present their perspectives. Each group presented their findings in rotation, allowing all participants to gain rich insights into case study analysis and apply their learning to real-world business contexts.
