Description:

This workshop introduced participants to the basics of Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and their role in fostering economic development. The session began with an overview of IPR types, including patents, copyrights, and trademarks, and discussed how these rights can incentivize innovation and promote economic growth. Participants learned about the legal frameworks governing IPR both in India and internationally, with a focus on how businesses and researchers can protect their intellectual property while contributing to broader economic development. The workshop also covered recent developments in Indian IPR law, case studies of successful IP-based ventures, and strategies for integrating IP protection into business models. The interactive nature of the workshop allowed participants to engage in discussions about the practical challenges of securing intellectual property rights in India and the steps needed to safeguard innovations.

Objectives:

- To introduce the concept of IPR and its importance in development.
- To explain how IPR can drive economic and technological growth.
- To discuss the various types of IPR and their implications for businesses.

Learning Outcomes:

- Basic understanding of IPR and its role in development.
- Awareness of how IPR fosters innovation and economic growth.
- Knowledge of the different types of intellectual property rights.

- Faculty Name: Dr.Satish Pawar, Director Research ASM,IBMR , Pune

Faculty Brief Profile: Approved Professor at Savitribai Phule Pune University. Have more than 22 years plus Teaching & Research experience for Post Graduate Management He is Approved Research Guide for PhD at Savitribai Phule Pune University.He is currently working as Research Director Research, at ASM Institute of Business Management & Research (IBMR), Chinchwad, Pune

- Beneficiaries: Faculty members & Students
- Venue: ASMA Institute of Management, Shivane,Pune
- Date- 14/02/2021
- Total Number of Participants attended:67

Description:

This workshop provided participants the Hypothesis development tools.It explored the importance of forming a research hypothesis as a pivotal step in academic research, helping participants to understand how to translate research problems into testable statements. The session highlighted the process of identifying gaps in the literature, reviewing related work, and crafting well-defined, logical, and concise hypotheses that serve as the basis for empirical testing. Participants also learned about the types of hypotheses (null and alternative) and how to structure them for effective research execution. The session was discussed about various hypothesis testing methods like; z-Test 'T' test, Non-parametric testing tools

Objectives:

- To introduce the concept of hypothesis development in research.
- To provide a clear understanding of hypothesis testing and its importance in validating research.
- To enable students to frame meaningful research questions and develop testable hypotheses.

Learning Outcomes:

- Ability to formulate research questions and hypotheses.
- Understanding the relationship between research objectives and hypotheses.
- Practical insights into hypothesis testing techniques.

- Total Number of Participants attended : 78

Description:

This workshop provided participants with hands-on training in most widely used statistical software tools in the business and academic world; SPSS (Statistical Package for the Social Sciences). Designed to develop students' quantitative research skills, the workshop covered advanced topics such as data preparation, statistical modelling, and interpretation of results. Through real-world case studies, students learned to perform multivariate analysis, build predictive models, and apply statistical tests to validate their hypotheses. The session emphasized the role of statistical tools in making informed business decisions, highlighting their importance in market research.

Objectives:

- To familiarize students with the functionality of SPSS
- To enhance skills in data analysis, interpretation, and model building.
- To demonstrate the practical application of statistical tools in research projects.

Learning Outcomes:

- Competency in using SPSS for model building and data analysis.
- Enhanced ability to interpret statistical outputs.
- Practical knowledge of creating and testing models in research.

Subject: Workshop on SPSS in Model Building

Dear All,

We are excited to announce a workshop on SPSS in Model Building at ASMA Institute of Management.

Details of the Workshop:

- Speaker: Dr. Roshan Kazi, Director, Allana Institute of Management, Pune. Dr. Kazi has over 20 years of teaching and research experience and is a leading expert in data analysis using SPSS, SAS, and R. He is an approved Research Guide for Ph.D. at Savitribai Phule Pune University.
- Venue: ASMA Institute of Management, Computer Lab, Floor 2
- Date: 20/01/2022
- Time: 11:00 AM to 5:00 PM

This session will focus on using statistical tools like SPSS and SAS for research and decision-making. Topics include data preparation, multivariate analysis, and predictive modeling, with hands-on experience.

Objectives:

- Enhance skills in data analysis and interpretation.
- Understand the applications of statistical tools in business research.

All participants will be provided with a Participation Certificate.

Registration Details:

- Limited seats available. Registration will be done on a first-come, first-serve basis.

1. Research Methodology: Hypothesis Development

- Faculty Name: Dr. Zavare, Director, Rajiv Gandhi Business School, Tathwade Pune
Faculty Brief Profile:
Approved Professor & Director at Savitribai Phule Pune University.
Have more than 20 years plus Teaching & Research experience for Post Graduate Management. He is Approved Research Guide for PhD at Savitribai Phule Pune University. Currently working as Director at Rajiv Gandhi Business School, Tathwade Pune
- Beneficiaries: Faculty members & Students
- Venue: ASMA Institute of Management, Shivane, Pune
- Date- 09/10/2022
- Total Number of Participants attended :88

Description:

This workshop thoroughly discussed the conceptual part of research methodology with a specific focus on hypothesis development. It explored the importance of forming a research hypothesis as a pivotal step in academic research, helping participants to understand how to translate research problems into testable statements (Hypothesis). The session highlighted the process of identifying gaps in the literature, reviewing related work, and crafting well-defined, logical, and concise hypotheses that serve as the basis for empirical testing. Participants also learned about the types of hypotheses (null and alternative) and how to structure them for effective research execution. The seminar bridged theoretical insights with practical exercises, enabling students to connect academic theories with real-world applications in research projects.

Objectives:

- To introduce the concept of hypothesis development in research.
- To provide a clear understanding of hypothesis testing and its importance in validating research.
- To enable students to frame meaningful researches questions and develop testable hypotheses.

Learning Outcomes:

- Ability to formulate research questions and hypotheses.
- Understanding the relationship between research objectives and hypotheses.
- Practical insights into hypothesis testing techniques.

- Total Number of Participants attended: 77

Description:

This workshop was designed to provide participants with an in-depth understanding of the role of incubation centres in fostering innovation and entrepreneurship, particularly within the Indian ecosystem. The session began with an overview of the various types of incubation centres, ranging from academic-based to private and government-backed initiatives, highlighting their importance in helping start-ups gain access to resources, mentorship, and funding. A significant portion of the workshop was devoted to Indian government policies designed to support incubation centres and start-ups, such as the Start-up India initiative, which offers tax benefits, funding opportunities, and simplified regulatory processes. Participants learned about the steps involved in applying for incubation, the types of support available, and success stories from Indian entrepreneurs who have successfully scaled their businesses through incubators.

Objectives:

- To provide an overview of incubation centres in India.
- To discuss government policies aimed at supporting start-ups.
- To highlight the resources available for budding entrepreneurs.

Learning Outcomes:

- Understanding of the functioning of incubation centres in India.
- Knowledge of Indian government policies that support start-ups.
- Insights into how entrepreneurs can utilize incubation centres for growth.
